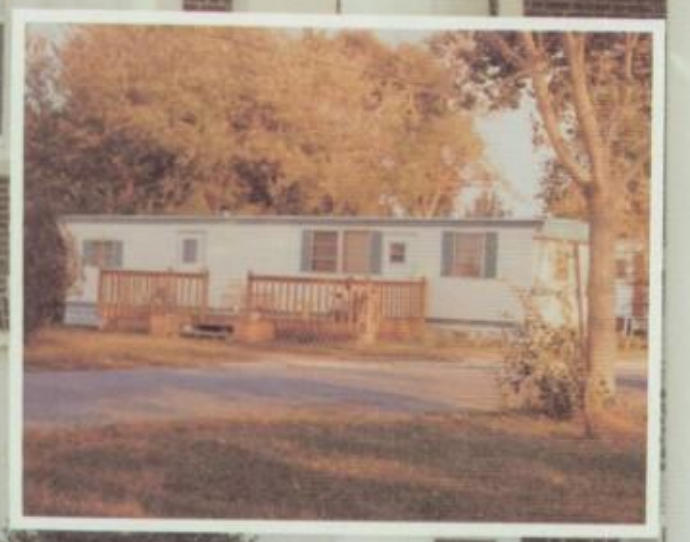
Indian River High School

Frankford, Delaware 19945

What is IR Style? How we think, how we feel, how we act, or even how we look. Most schools only have a few ways of expressing themselves, but Indian River High School is much different. Everyone has their own very unique way of doing things. Though we all come from different places, school brings us together to share experiences with each other. Our memories, good and bad, are what we will carry with us even after graduation.



INDIAN RIVER HIGH SCHOOL

IR style is shown where ever we go! We see it's true at the beach, in class, in the halls, at the games, during assemblies, and pep-rallies. Good times are always around.

Through friendship we find happiness, trust, fun, and mischief. Though our mistakes we have learned to better ourselves. The time is coming when we will have to say farewell to our teachers and close friends. Time seems to go by to fast now that graduation is near. On behalf of the class of "87" "We'll miss you!!!!"

Lockers

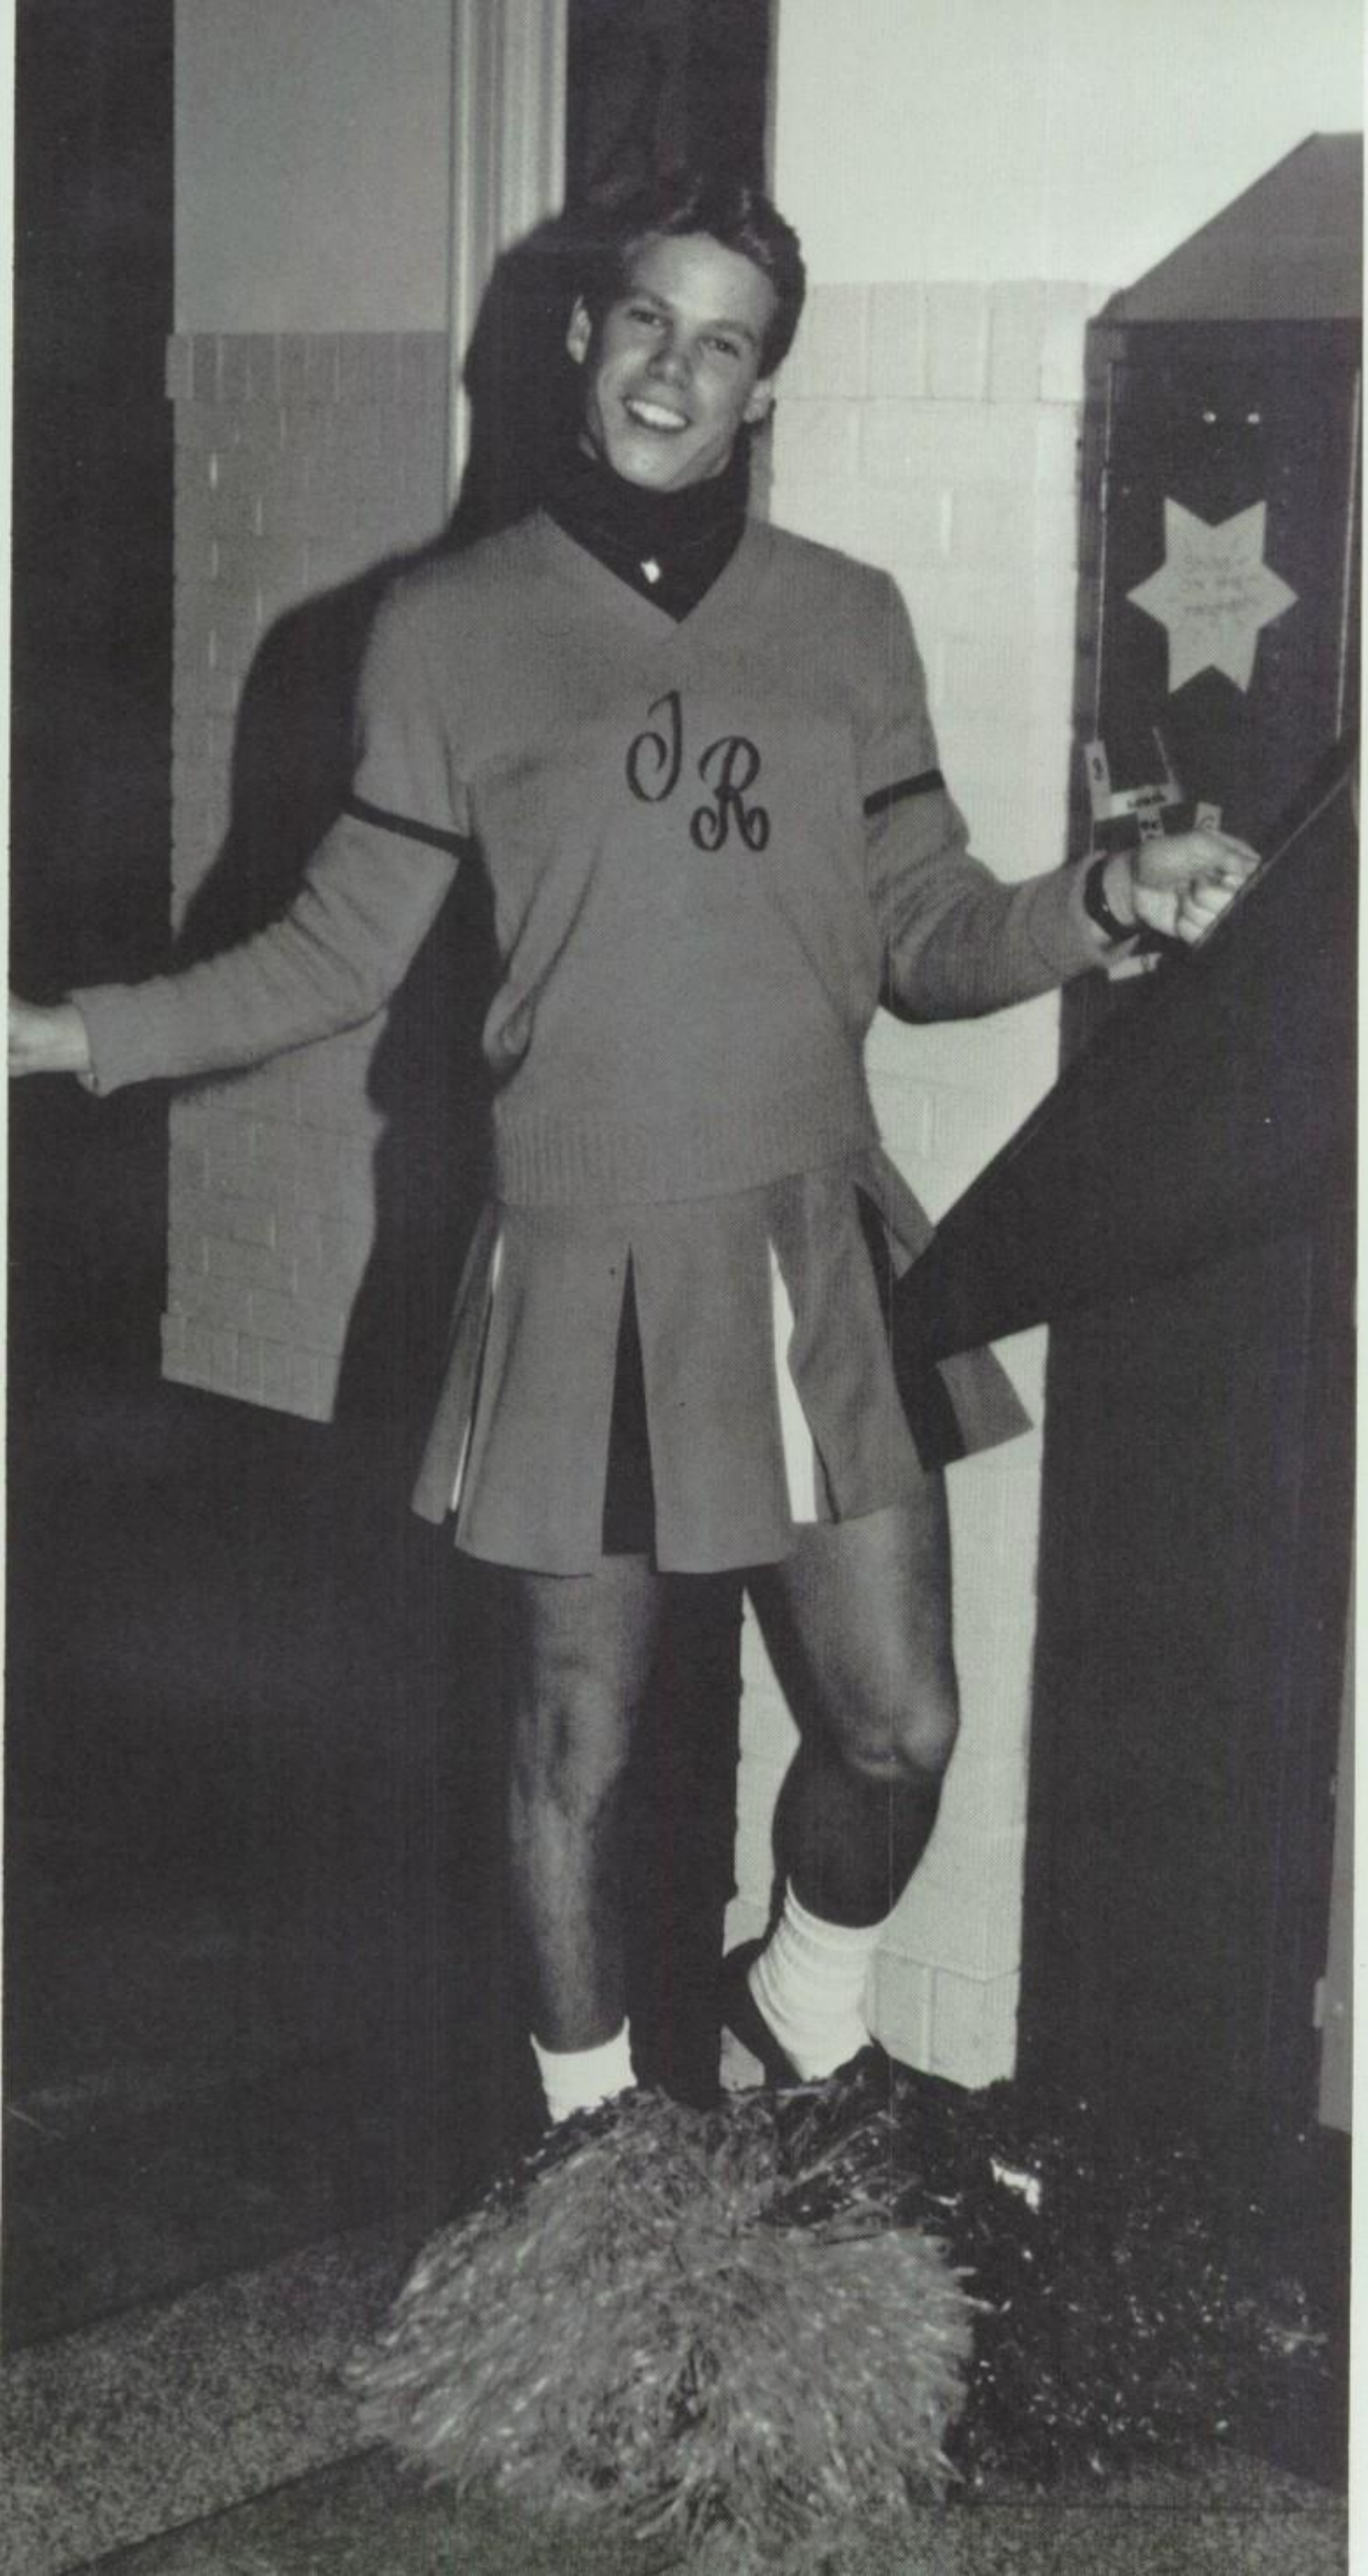
I.R Style

Lockers IR Style. What does this mean to you? In most schools students go to their lockers three times a day, in the morning, during lunch, and after their last class. At IR, however, students are drawn to their lockers at every waking moment. Their lockers are a focal point for a host of activites. They meet their friends there, search for lost homework papers there, adjust their make-up there, and prepare themselves mentally for their next class. Some students just drop by to say hi to their books. Lockers at IR come in several styles. Here are just a few...

The jock's locker is unique. It is full of books which never leave the locker! This makes them easy to find and keeps them in good shape. Jocks hardly ever pay book damage fines. It also enables him to have his hands free to carry the essential tools of every student such as baseball bats and gloves! The jock's locker is hard to close because of his gym bag stuffed with last years unwashed towels and socks. This creates that special locker- room aroma - truly home away from home! Thanks to Dwayne Bailey for being such a good sport!

Here we see Gary Murray modeling the latest in nerd-wear, standing next to an IR style nerd locker. As you can see, the locker is empty since nerds usually carry all of their books to each of their classes (whether they need them or not) just in case they get the chance to use them in case of a nuclear attack. Nerds - try to figure 'em! In typical nerd fashion, Gary has arranged to have his eyes closed when his picture was taken. How do they do that? Upon closer inspection, we see many typical nerd style characteristics: the shirt-tail half out, top shirt button buttoned, flair pens in the shirt pocket, sun glasses (in a feeble attempt to be cool even though he wears regular glasses! Oh yes and note the tape on the glasses.), white socks and pants that should have been lenghtened two years ago! Nerds definately make a fashon statement. They are telling the world that they will soon take a prominent place in society as a cardboard box manufacturer. Our thanks to Gary for making this character so believable!

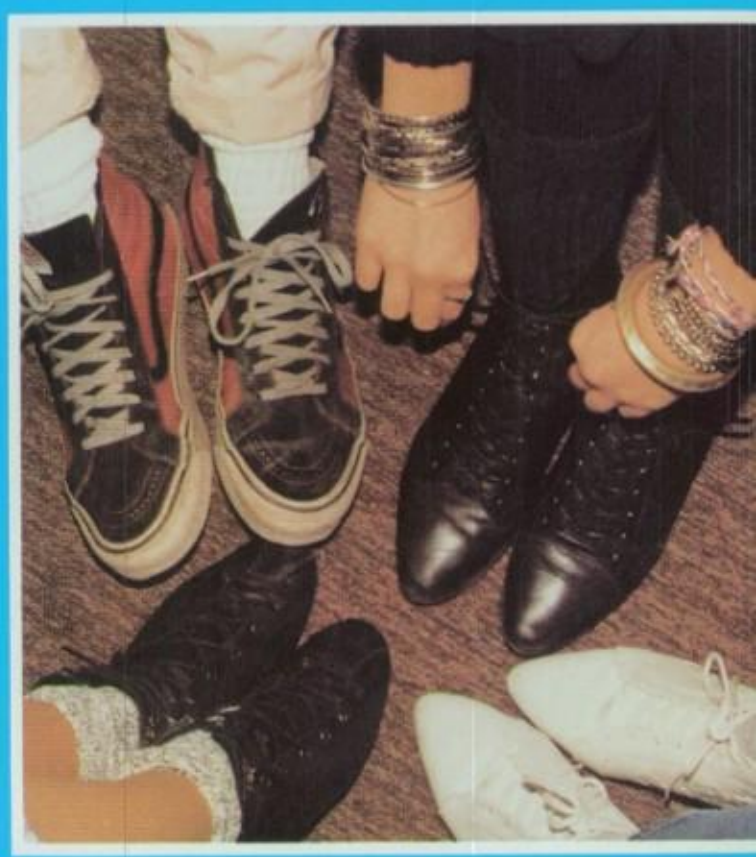
Hey Man! Surf's up at IR! The typical IR style surf-rat's locker comes with all you see here. Anthony Merrill is ready to ride that perfect wave towards graduation, carefully maneuvering around tests and quizzes and avoiding the treacherous term paper eddies. As you can see, the books are carefully placed at the bottom of the locker to provide stability. Extra trunks and towels can also be found inside. The stickers on the door remind him of his major goal in life: To surf, to wax, and to surf again. It has always been a mystery as to how these surf-rats manage to fit their boards inside their lockers. It is a secret they are not yet ready to reveal. Our thanks to Anthony.



Another typical character seen near our lockers is the IR style cheerleader. She is admired by all. Looked up to by children, sought after by would-be football players, she is the center of attention in our school. Cheerleaders, as we see here, are always in motion, even when standing "still". They can be seen practicing their cheers at the bus-stop or waiting in the lunch line. Always smiling, always cheerful and happy, the IR cheerleader's locker is easy to spot. It's the one with cute little cut-outs of stars and goal posts urging football players to crush and maim their opponents! "Kill 'em, stomp "em, rip out their arteries with your teeth!" But-always with a smile! The emphasis here is on the external. The locker is closed since its contents are unsubstantial. The focus here is on the package. Every pleat is pressed, each hair in place. Even the pom-poms hang neatly in their lockers. What football player wouldn't want to dismember an adversary for her? Seriously, we are proud of our cheerleaders at IR and we expecially want to thank Dino Capp for allowing himself to be publically humiliated for this feature!!

Fashions

I.R Style



What is IR Style ? How we dress is a part of it. Dress brings us together and separates us under labels. Preps, Punks, etc...What's hot? What's not? Who's cool? Who's not? Braided bracelets, cropped hair, bangles, graffiti sneakers, and long coats are some fashions looks on the scene. The key note to this season is originality and that's what IR students express in their dress. Here we see some of the fashions that are seen in and around our school, everything from jean jackets to formal wear. IR students show many of the current fashion trends and help to set others.

Getting Prepared

Much preparation was necessary in order to make the 1986 Junior-Senior Prom a success. Plans for the prom began in the early fall so we could reach perfection by the time May rolled around. They found it necessary for us to practice our Grand March walk. Don't Michele and Rhonda make a cute couple? We even made sure the balloons were placed just right. What a struggle for Traye and Jeff. In between all the work, though, a few of us found time to pose for the camera.

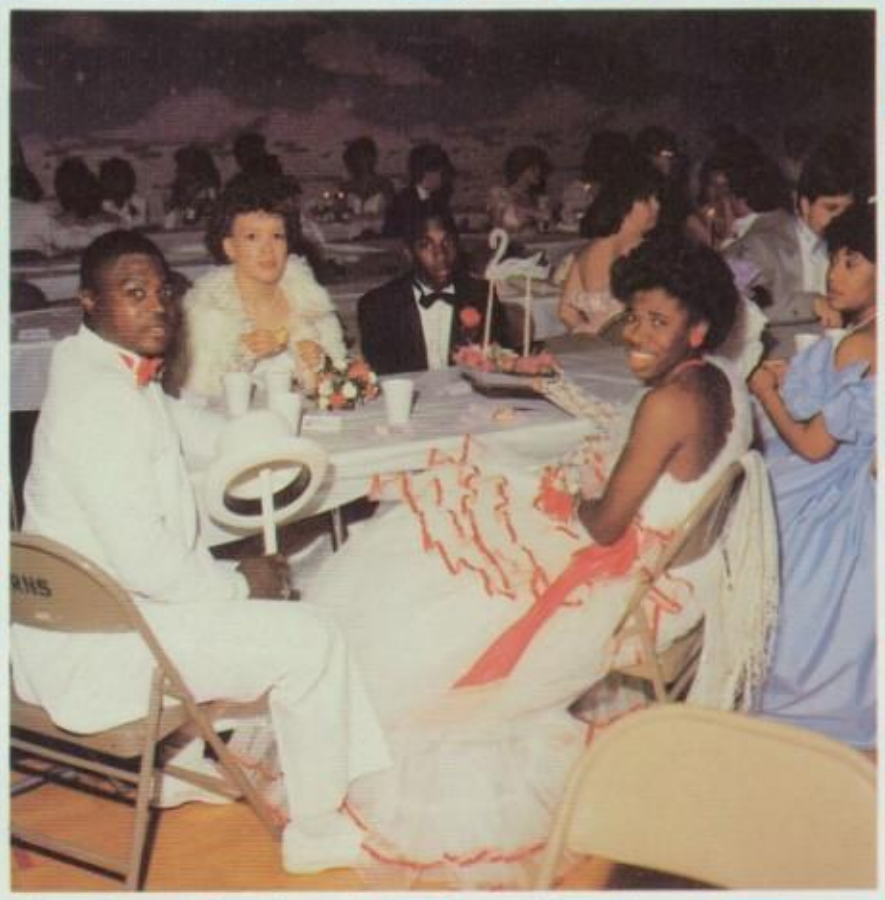
It was a lot of work, and we thought our paradise might never be complete. But, as you well know, it finally was, and a successful prom was created thanks to the class of 1987.

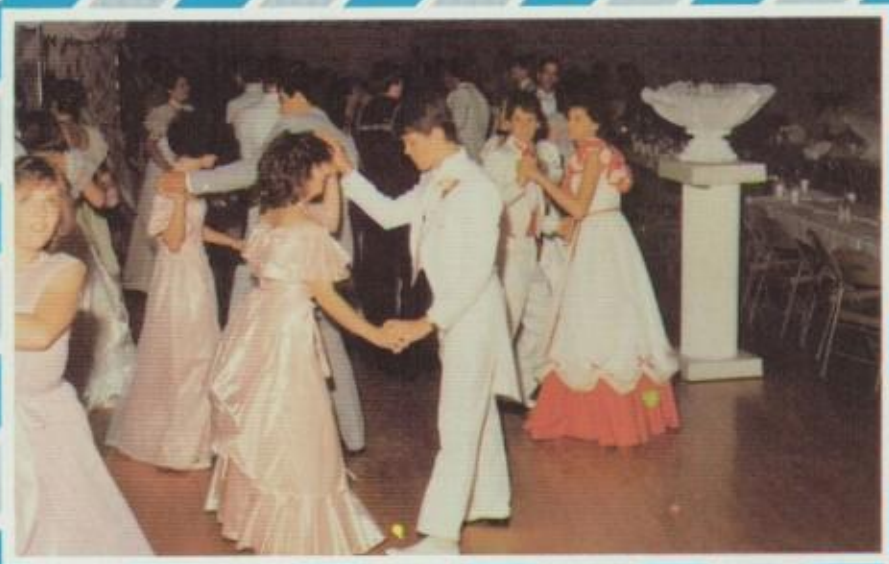
Working Together

Mr. Adams was a big help in preparing for the prom. Here we see him directing Rick and Jeff. As you can see, the class of 1987 is not camera shy. Denny, Kim and Edelyn take time out to pose for the Chieftain. We see a happy group below when they finally get a break.

Just for a Moment

It was as though it happened yesterday. Each moment will always be with us. Adjusting a tie. Altering a dress. The first time you see your date. A good-night kiss. Talking, laughing, dancing with that special someone. All our hard work paid off as you can see. The time came to select our king and queen. There were many handsome couples from which to choose but there was never any contest. IR style was alive and well at our prom. Melanie Rickards and Chris Megee were crowned and sat down under the canopy. What a moment! Not a dry eye in the house. Proms are always special for the students, but this one will be remembered by everyone, young and old. The participants of the prom paid a special tribute to two of their own and set a standard of excellence the rest of us will be hard pressed to follow. This is what IR style is all about. This is who we are - a caring group of students and teachers.





Memories

Denise Smith, Kim Showell, and Sabrina Hodge enjoy the refreshments. David Chipman and Susan Daly take to the dance floor. Melanie and Chris share the moment. Jessica Rowe and Sandra Collins set the pace.

Fire up!

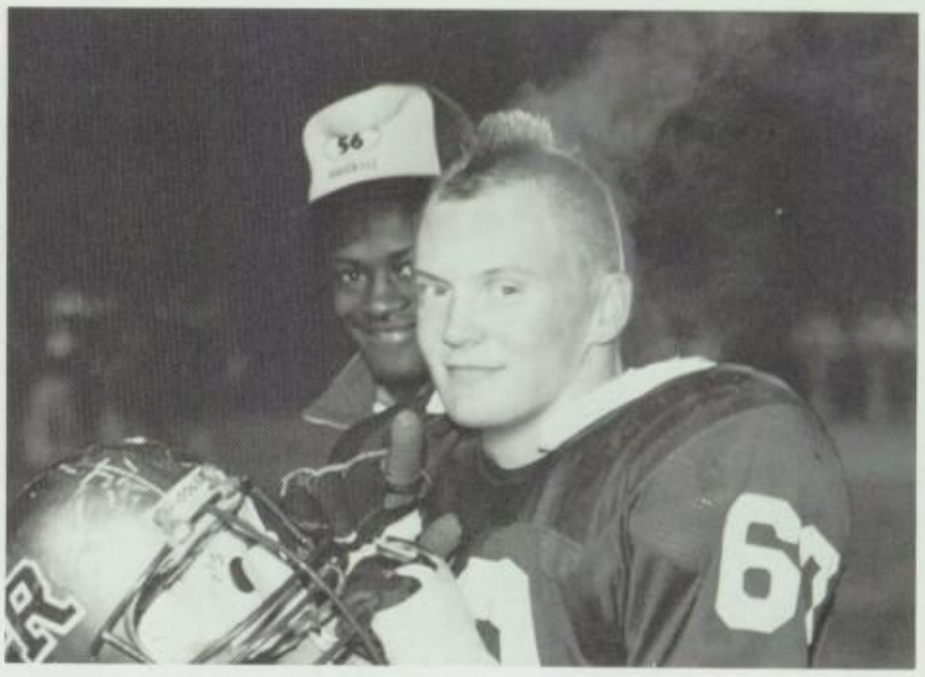
This year before the homecoming game, we had our annual homecoming pep rally. The cheer and yell leaders made the event especially enjoyable, and a great deal of pride was shown by IR's students (in particular, Earllaine, Lori, Susan, Diane, and Edelyn.) Part of the activities inluded a mock queen and her court. Don't Mr. Harmon, Mr. Steele, and Kent make lovely girls? But we certainly cannot forget their escorts, Paige, Amy, and Cindy.

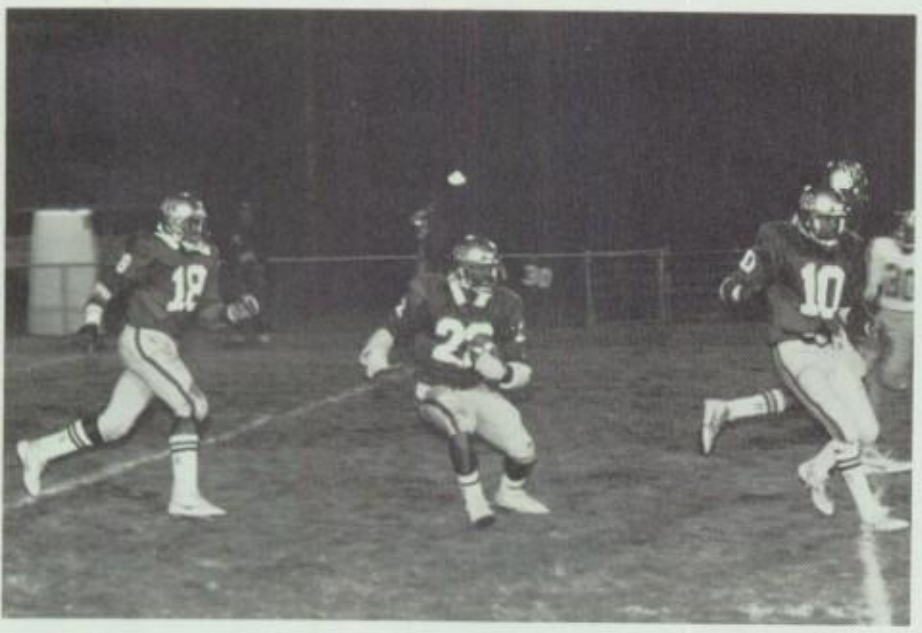
Mike Carter was the lucky girl to be crowned queen, although many others (David Humes) looked just as stunning. Everyone displayed an incredible amount of spirit, and the togetherness that the students felt at this event will not soon be forgotten.

THROUGH THE GOOD TIMES AND THE BAD, WE'LL ALWAYS BE TOGETHER IN OUR HEARTS AS THE CLASS OF '87. ALL WE SHARE WILL BE BEAUTIFUL MEMORIES IN THE FUTURE.
87
PRIDE OF 1987

And the winner is...

Other festivities that go with this game are the choosing of a queen and the best float. This year's candidates for queen were Christine Harrison, Tamara Townsend, and Tonya Mitchell, who won. The junior and sophomore attendants were Isabelle Dundee and Raquel Doukas. Congratulations are in order to the Class of '89 whose float, Raid the Raiders, won.





Our football team was also a winner that night, defeating Woodbridge with a score of 38-7. The cheerleaders and fans seem to be freezing as they look on with awe and excitement, but the players sure are hot!

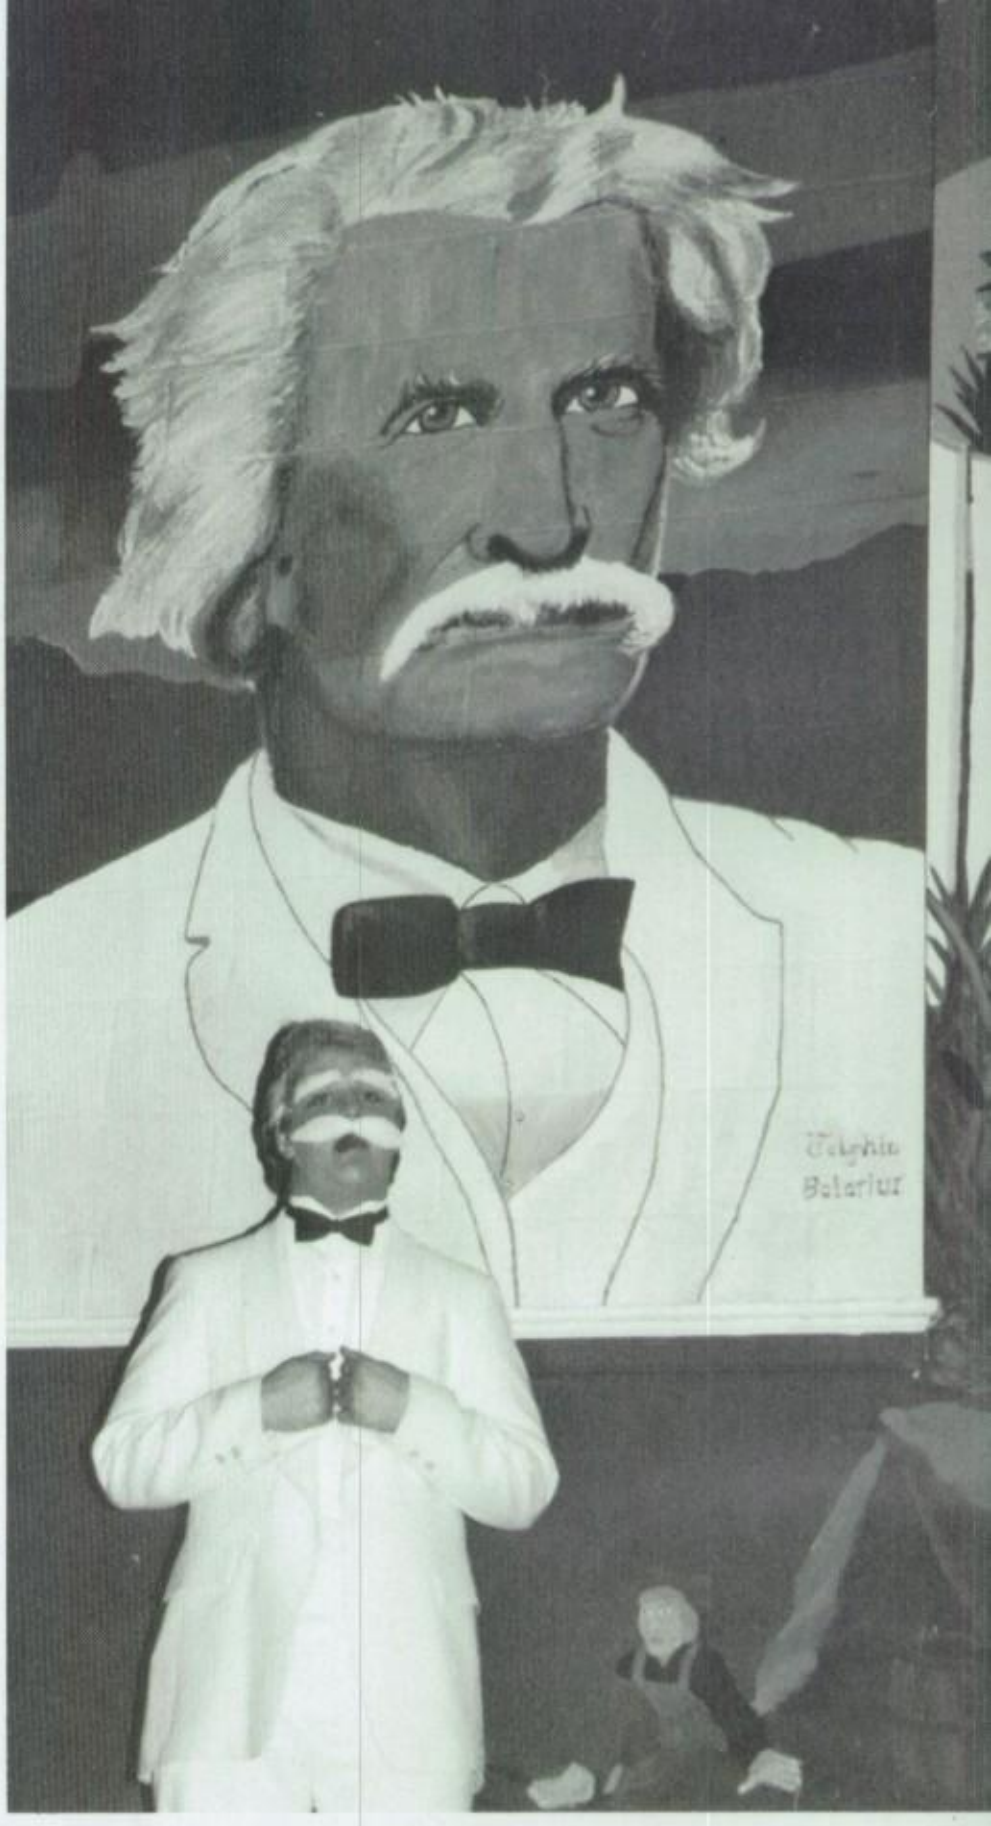
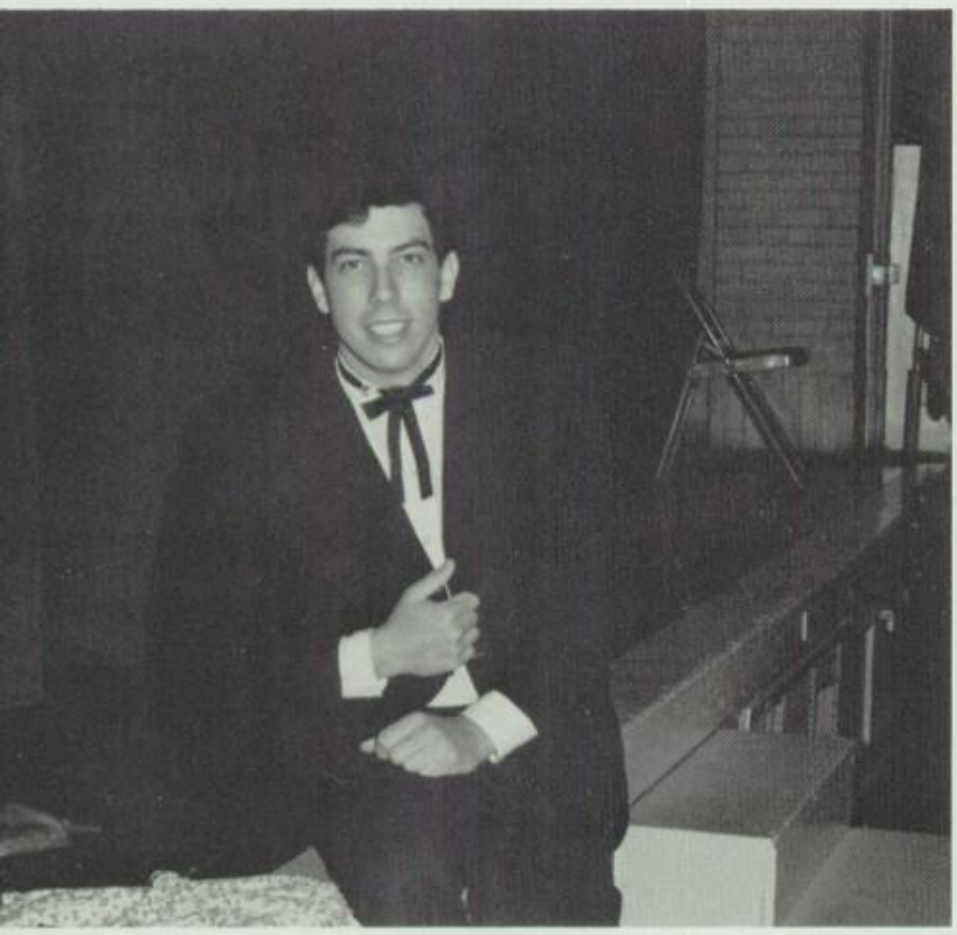
Mark Twain Day

On March 27th Mark Twain lovers everywhere marked the 151st anniversary of his birth. The event was celebrated here in true IR style. Under the direction of Mrs. Hochholzer and Bruce Laird, a day-long celebration to honor the great humorist took place. The festivities included a pie-eating contest, a Huck Finn look-alike contest and a frog-jumping contest. Many of the school's clubs were involved in the activities coordinated by the senior honors English class. The science department procured the frogs, the French Club supplied the pies, the art classes provided prizes for the contests as well as a mural in the auditorium, and the newspaper provided publicity. The junior honors English classes wrote the script for a play preformed that evening.



"The reports of my death are greatly exaggerated."

Bruce Laird, artist in residence, helps the honors English class.
John Angle poses as Judge Thatcher.
Scott Willey takes the lead in the pie-eating contest.
Bake Timmons oversees the frog-jumping contest.
Mrs. Hochholzer and Stewart Megee enjoy the celebration.

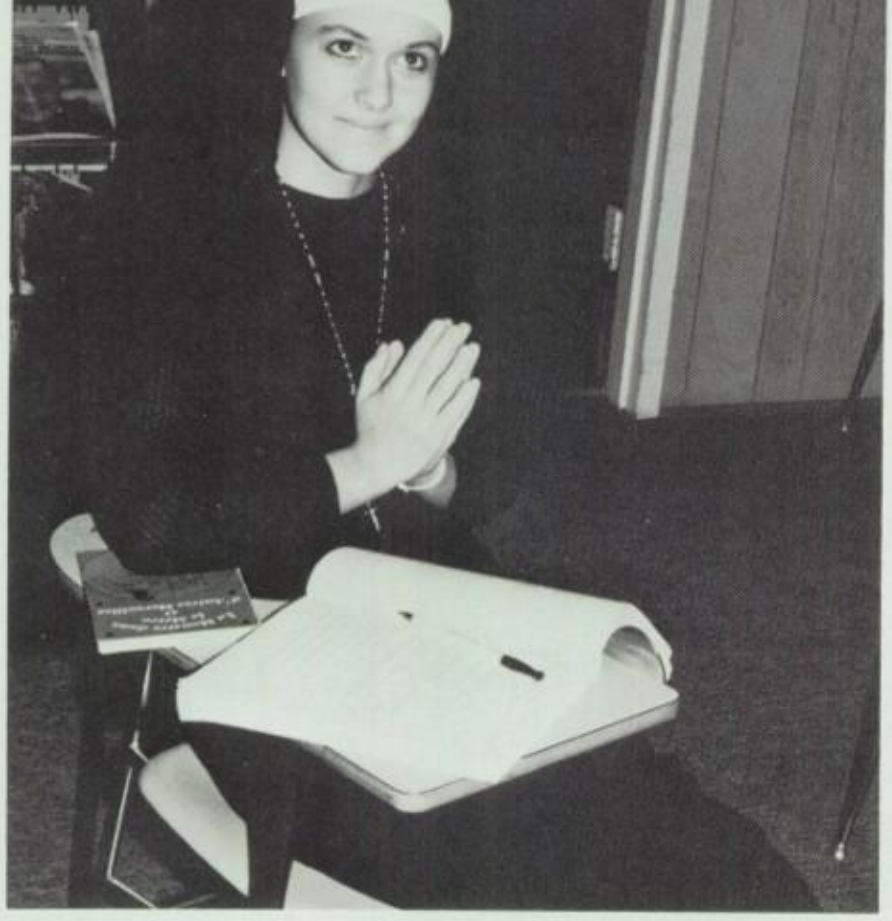


Celebrations

I.R. Style

Thanksgiving Day

Lunch at IR on Thanksgiving Day is a special occasion. Along with the Thanksgiving feast the cafeteria staff prepares, the seniors who choose to participate bring in sodas, cakes, and candy to celebrate this day. The table is set with tablecloths, candles, and the smiling faces of IR students. Here Maria Lopez and Diane Harvey seem to be enjoying their pumpkin pie, while Laura Chandler smiles as she is about to stuff her face. However, poor David Humes finds it necessary to mooch food off of Edelyn Enerio and Tonya Mitchell.



Halloween Day

This Halloween, Indian River students were truly in the spirit of the season. Karin Fleming dress as the good girl we know she is, but Howard Barlow, Kelly Bolton, and Gary Alchin also seem to be themselves today. As you looked around on Halloween Day, you could definitely see a wide variety of styles!

Slave Day

Slave Day is another one of IR's more enjoyable occasions. In order to raise money for their class, some seniors volunteer to "sell themselves" to eager buyers. On the day designed as Slave Day, the slaves must dress and behave as their masters wish them to do. It can be quite a unique experience!

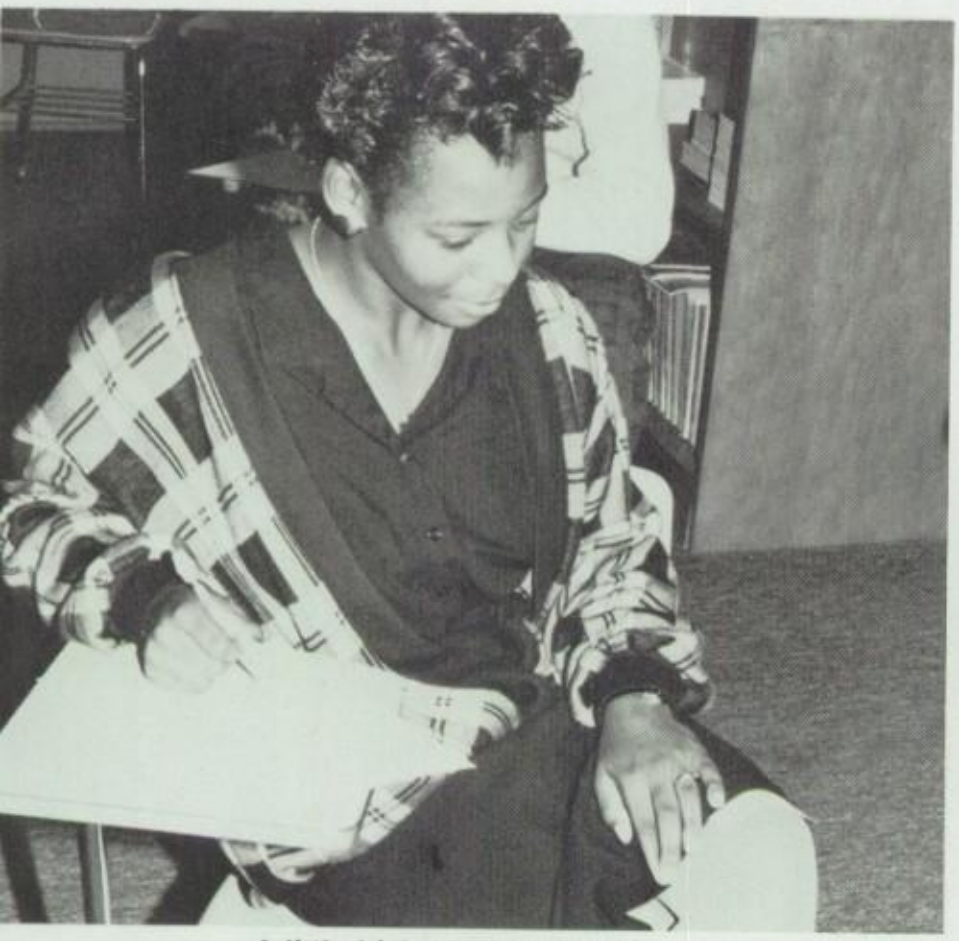
Creativity

I.R Style

Chalkboard Art

We enjoy expressing ourselves through our art. Here are some examples of the creativity of the future Picassos of IR. Some of the artists who designed these works for the yearbook are Ingrid Hatton, Tabby Cordrey, Jenny Campbell, Misty Varuolo, Dino Capp, and Bryant Danner who was the winner of the yearbook classe's chalkboard art contest.

The Art of Cheating ?!!!!



A little higher, that's it #12.

Ah ha! Now we know how Jennifer Campbell keeps her grades that high.

Cheating IR style?? We have the imagination to out-wit the most streetwise teacher, or do we? A roving eye, the softest of whispers. Is it the latest gossip or the answer to number 10? Can they prove cheating by hiding microphones under our desks? The desperation of some students is laughable, cramming until the last possible moment. Using more energy to cheat then they ever used to study. When you think about it, it would have been easier to have studied at home or to listen in class.

Now we can see why Mari Ellyn Archer always has sunglasses on her head.

So that's how you plan to get into the Air Force.

The newest version of piggyback.

I.R Style Student Liaison

The student liaison group is made up of the Student Council officers, class officers, and those students nominated by their teachers. This group of school leaders meets several times a year to discuss various problems and concerns in and around our school.

Row 1: Michele Banks, Devi Enerio, Carla Madden, Paige Steen, Celeste Tanner Row 2: Jennifer West, Tonya Mitchell, Edelyn Enerio, Mike Dennis, Yu Nein Jarmon, David Parsons, Dr. Patterson, Ronnie Townsend, and Kim Timmons

The Student Council is the government of the student body, by the student body, and for the student body. Only by taking an active roll can we initiate progress. Dances, fund-raisers, and many other school activities are coordinated by the Student Council.

Mike Dennis leads a discussion as the Student Council representatives listen and find ways to improve IR.

Drama Club

Drama Club guys are just a bunch of hams when it comes to picture time. Tom Sawyer's bunch of friends are just good'ole boys who like to horse around.

Mime performance mixed with Tom Sawyer is an unlikely combination. Even the girls are allowed to get into the act.

Row 1: Tony Showell, Alicia Tarver, Ron Jones and David Chipman. Row 2: Scherron Morris, Alisha Broughton, Stacey Griffin, Lori Bixler, Ripple Weistling, Jane Silvernail, Catherine VanGordon, Ingrid Hatton, Steve Offenbach and Lora Abbott. Row 3: Mike Helm, Toni Rust, Lisa Clifton, Joanne Hudson, Jennifer Campbell, Patty Burke, Melody Anderson, Pamela Dubois and Kim Griffen.

Kaleidoscope, the IR Drama Club's name, is in its first full year. We call ourselves Kaleidscope because we're all sizes, shapes, and colors which are constantly changing. Last year the drama class competed at the University of Delaware with a mime performance, at the Drama Day held at Del. Tech, and participated in the Mark Twain Tonight production. Drama Club hopes to be even bigger and more active next year. Break a leg!

Math League

The Delaware Council of Teachers of Mathmatics sponsors a math league for junior and senior high schools. Sixty high schools will compete during the school year. IR's team is in Region 6, which consists of eleven teams. This year's team got off to a great start. They finished tied for first place. The team hopes to continue their success in the next meets.

Row 1: Misty Varuolo, Anthony Hovington, Sandy Fukumura Row 2: John Smith, Kim Quillin, Mr. Macklin

Science Olympiad

At the Science Olympiad, students choose the science-related events that they want to enter. The students compete with other schools in the state and each team wins an award for each event that they win. There are about 15 members to a squad. This club is fun for everyone and helps students meet new and interesting people.

P.T.S.O.

The Parent Teacher Student Organization is concerned about Indian River High School and its problems. Many school rules and policies are discussed at their regular meetings in the hopes of creating a better school environment. Hopefully, by working together as a team, all of those who come to IR will have a better experience. This years student representatives are Nancy Timmons, Dwayne Bailey, Lori Magee, and Mike Dennis.

SADD

Students Against Drunk Driving has sponsored activities. These include films, guest speakers, and a "Ghost-Out Day". SADD represents a growing concern about adults and teenagers driving while intoxicated. SADD hopes to inform the student body at IR about the dangers of driving drunk and the results this can bring upon themselves and innocent others.

Yearbook

Juniors and Seniors hurry to reserve their copies of the 1987 Chieftain during the annual yearbook assembly. Mr. Goldberg explains layout notations to Holly Dorff, Features Editor.

This year's yearbook staff has been a hardworking and dedicated group. Smaller than other classes in recent years, the size of the Chieftain staff was purposefully reduced so that those students who are truly dependable and industrious could produce a book the entire school could be proud of. The 1987 Chieftain is the result. As you look over these pages you might think of the long hours it took to compile them. It was not an easy task but working against all odds, the book was finally finished. All the drawings, photos and rewritten copy finally fell into place. The entire staff hopes this book will serve you as a reminder of what it was to be a student at IR in 1987.

Isabelle Dundee and Heidi Carey prepare the layouts for the student life and junior sections of the book. Lora Abbott, Kathy Anderson, and Alicia Tarver work hard to meet their deadline.

To provide us with our school newspaper, the students on staff decide what kind of news should be in the school paper. They decide who will write each article and then they begin to gather the necessary information either through magazines, newspapers or by interviewing students and teachers. They write, rewrite and finally edit and type their stories. The editor and assistant editor then lay out the articles and the pages are sent to the printer for publication. The result is the War Cry we have all come to rely on for IR's news. As we anxiously await the next copy, this year's staff can be proud of the job that they have done.

French Club

The French Club has had another very successful year. With one of the largest memberships in recent years, club activities were enjoyed by several IR students. Our trip to the Nemours Maison, pictured at the middle right, was combined with our end-of-the-year picnic. The cook-out turned out to be great fun for the group. We can see Dino Capp preparing his famous "Dino Dogs". We were also able to mobilize our membership to help someone in need. A little boy in Scotland, dying of leukemia, wanted his name to be entered into the Guiness Book of World Records for having received the most postcards delivered to a single address. Club members bought 600 postcards and organized a campaign at IR for the entire student body to send cards to him. It was one of the most satisfying things the club has ever done. It was gratifying to see these students channel their enthusiasm for French into helping another person. The French Club can be very proud of its members.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is an organization whose purpose is to create enthusiasm for education, to serve, to promote leadership, and develop character in students. To be eligible students must have a average of 90% and meet high standards. Leadership is based on participation in various activities, service in several areas, and character in terms of integrity, behavior, ethics, and cooperation with students and faculty.

Industrial

Arts

The American Industrial Arts Student Association is an organization which developes the leadership potential of its members in relation to the industrial/technical world. The rapid expansion our area demonstrates the importance of the trades. The students who are involved in this club will be ready to meet the future needs of our community.

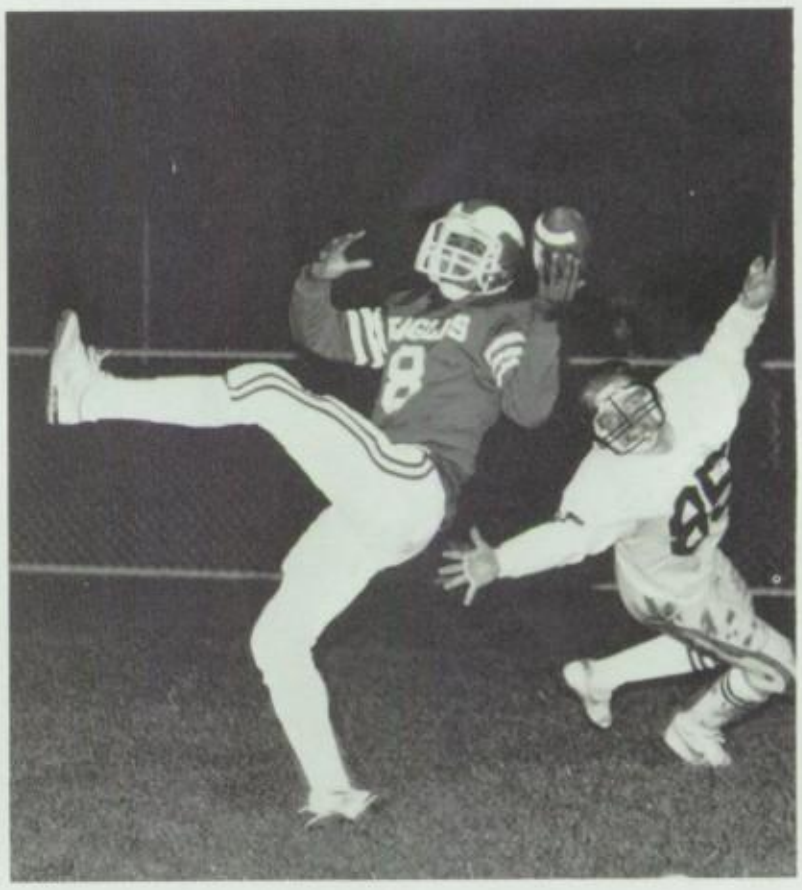
Row 5: Keith Bailey, Fabian McCray, Brian Boyce, Robert Kinsler, Tony Brinkley, Bryant Danner, Reuben McCray,Ric Turlington.

The Football team had a great season. The team never gave up and with persistence fought its way to a winning season. They fought their way to the conference and won the crown as The Southern Division Winners. This year's team was unlike the past in that they don't have just one great ballplayer but a group of good ballplayers. IR recieved a great deal of leadership from a large group of seniors. When the seniors leave there is still a good group of underclassmen to fill in their shoes and keep playing good football. This year's season by the varisty and junior varisty teams should prove as a confidence builder for future teams. Phillip Ash



Another Touchdown! Eric plunges for the ball. Another great tackle. Coach Steele calls out the plays.

The Soccer Team for 1986 had quite a respectable season. The team struggled through its first three matches, being shut out in each one. Many athletes would have given up and settled in for a losing season. This team pulled themselves together and were not beaten for the rest of their entire season. They finished the season with three shut-outs.

The IR Hockey team went through a period of "recovery" this year. They ended the season 3-7-1. Anyone who saw them play this year could see that they had a winning atmosphere. They worked very hard on improving skills and fundamentals. They worked as a team with enthusiasm. They encouraged each other in both games and practices. Postive thinking and playing has gotten the team back on its feet. The "road to recovery" is here.

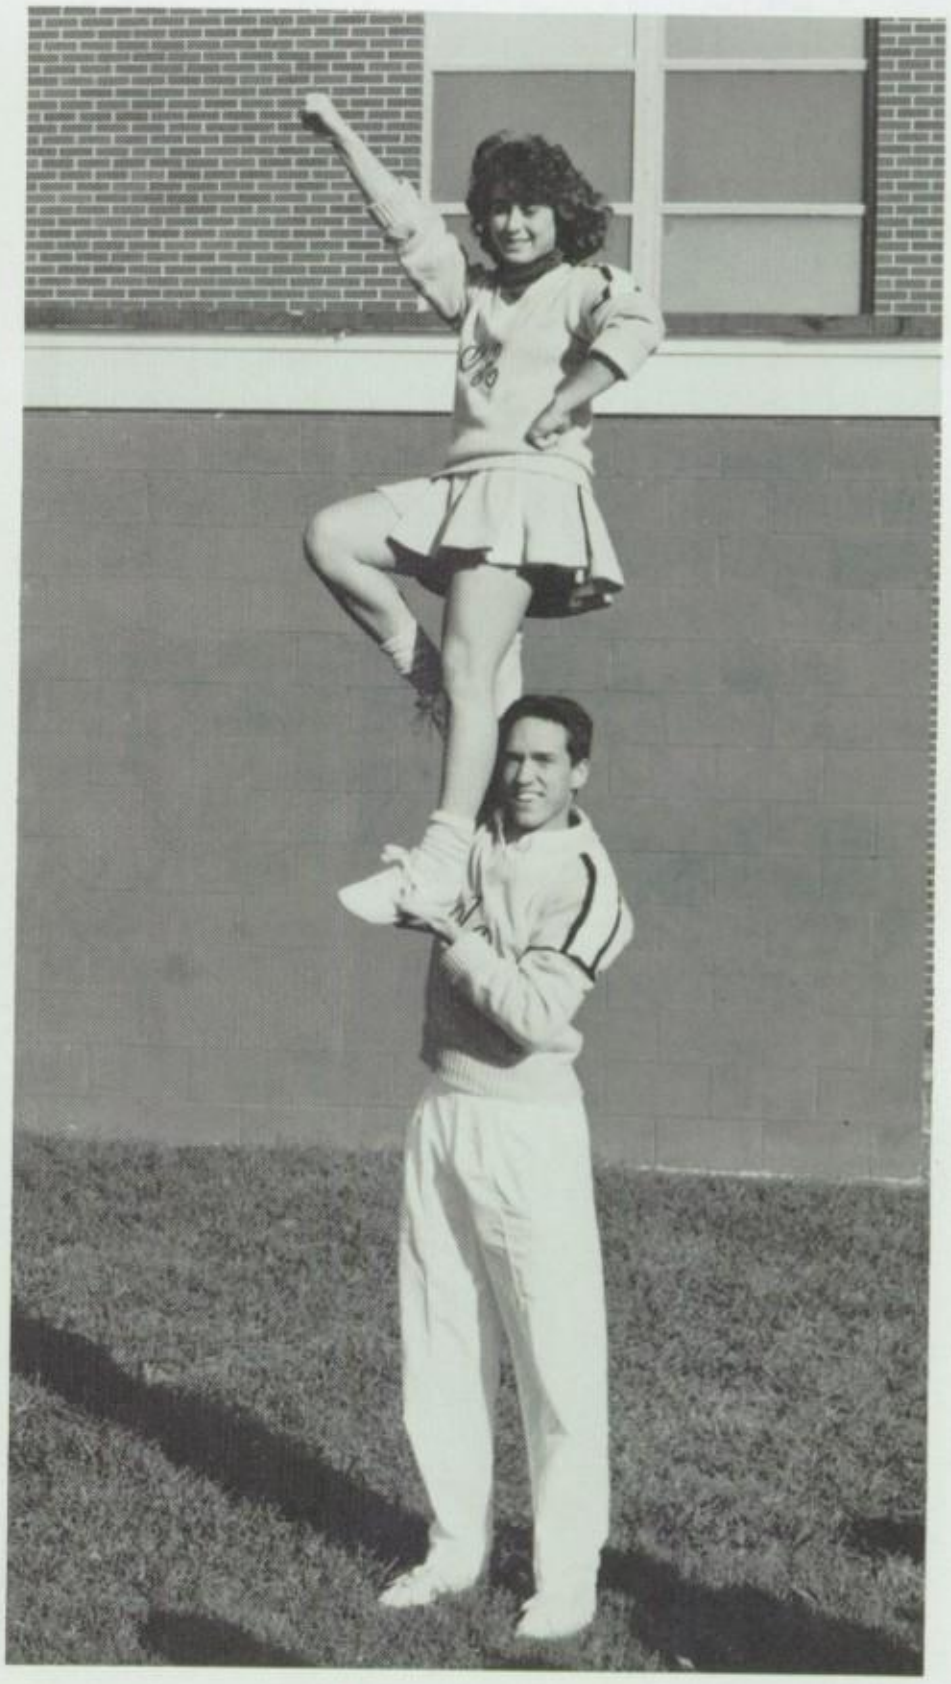
Football Cheer and Yell Leaders

Cheerleading plays an essential part in raising school spirit and pride. This year's football cheerleaders and yell leaders were a devoted group of individuals. We began our season last March after tryouts and continued to work hard the entire season. In addition, we attended a summer cheerleading camp where we recieved the spirit stick twice. Yet one of our greatest achievements was our ability to act as a "family". Because of our care and support of one another, this season was rewarding and successful for all of us. Special thanks to Mrs. Jones for being there when we needed her.

Row 1: Celeste Tanner, David Humes, Jerry Morgan, Kent McCullough, Mike Carter, Kim Bolton Row 2: Alicia Tarver, Christy Elliott, Cindy Webster, Devi Enerio, Paige Steen Row 3: Michele Banks, Kim Milloy, Marsha Banks, Amy Dukes David Humes and Alicia Tarver do it in IR style. Kent McCullough and Cindy Webster reach high for IR. Kent McCullough and Marsha Banks show their spirit.



Jerry Morgan and Paige Steen demonstrate the Perdue. Mike Carter and Christy Elliott form a perfect chair. Mascot Amber Steele urges the team on. Devi Enerio practices for the big game. These are only a few of the dedicated members of the 1987 squad. Each has contributed in a special way to make this a memorable season for the cheer and yell leaders.

I.R Style

The 1986-87 Indian River Boys Basketball Team was led by Senior, Co-Captain, guards, Rodney Belmont, and Dwayne Flamer. Strong contributions to the team were also made by Brian Wescott, Greg Snead, Stanley Whaley, Alex Sadowski and Arron Hudson. Coach Shelton's junior varsity team was lead by: juniors, Fabian McCray and Tyrone Handy; sophomores, Mark Hall, Gordan Handy, and Brian Broughton; and freshman Kevin Mumford. Special recognition was given to senior, James Brown, who led the team in dedication and persistence.

One of the IR team members reaches for the heights of IR style. IR reaches for it's full potential as always. The team members help each other reach this goal by hard work and lots of will power. Coach Kelly helps to motivate his members with his loud voice of encouragement.

Girl's Basketball

As head coach I would like to sincerely thank all players, managers, and the assistant coach for performing a most difficult task. It is the first time in many years that IR played a J.V. schedule and for most games with only a total of eleven players. Thank you for having Pride in your work.

A special "good-luck" to this years three seniors from all of us and we will miss you.

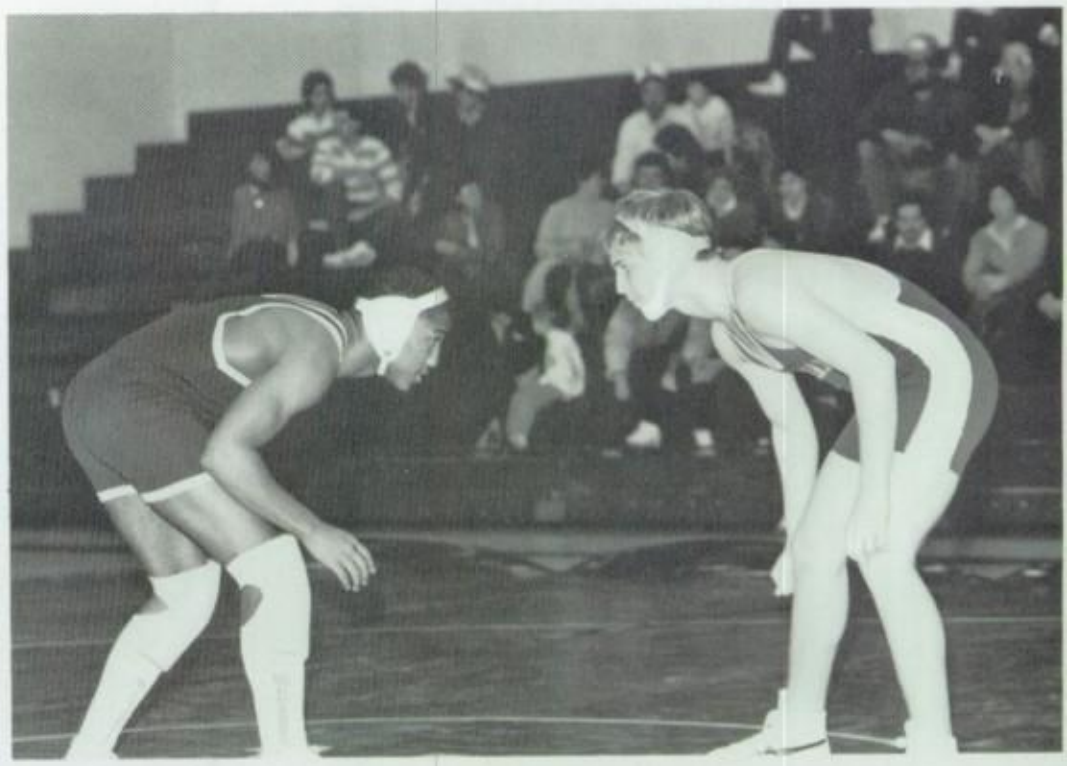
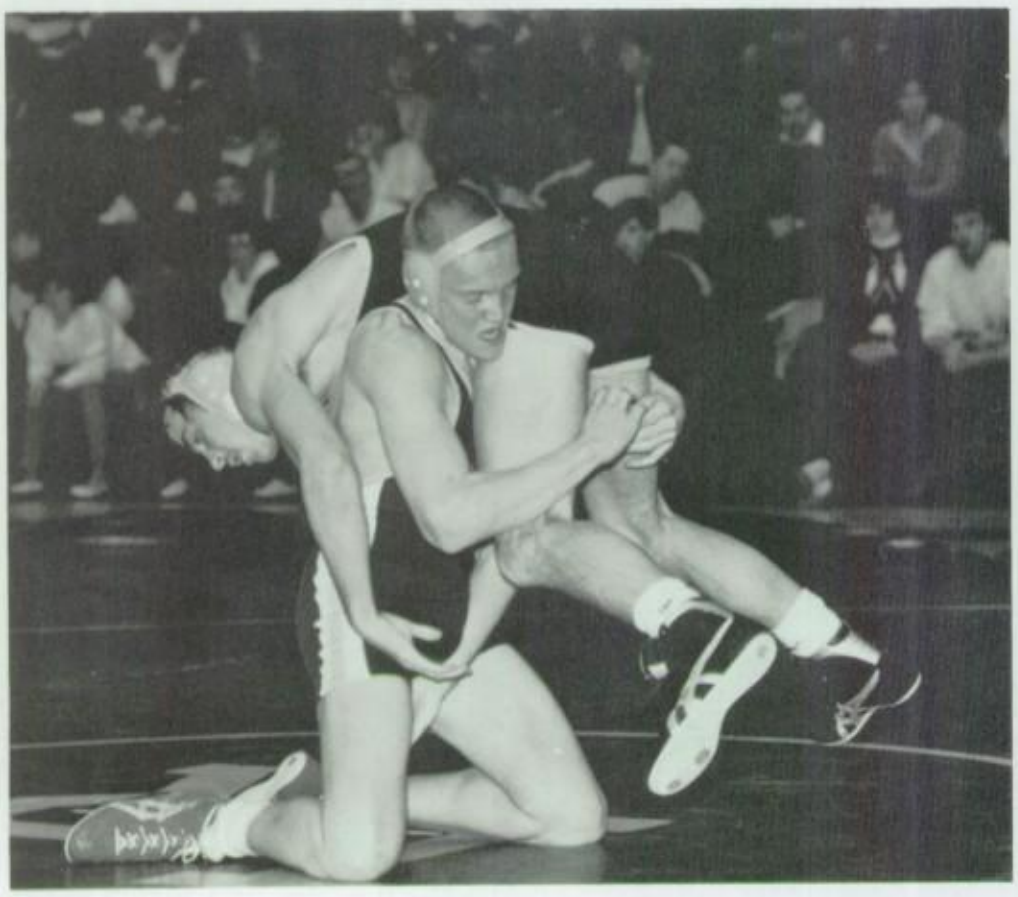
Wrestling

This year the wrestling team has the potential to be a good wrestling team in a few years. Indian River will definitely become the team to watch in the future. As for now, we must be content to have done our best which is part of the IR spirit we all are a part of.

We have seven freshmen and three sophomores who earned a varsity letter this year and I look forward to having them all back next year. We only have two seniors on the team: Co-CaptainsCurtis Taylor andPhillip Ash who will be missed next year. Coach Guarna





Phillip Ash, as always, takes charge of his matches. Phillip is one of the stronger guys in our school.

This year's squad was a continuance of last year's team. Our pitching has always been suspect, but along with our improved fielding and added hitting punch our record improved greatly. We finished the season (5-5) with 3 of the 5 loses being by one run. If this year's J.V. gives of themselves on varsity as they did for me, we should have a winning team.

Softball

The softball team had a rough season as you can see by their scorebox. Although, the season was a difficult one they showed enthusiasm for the sport. They came out everyday after school for a hard, tiring practice with Coach Steen . Here are some words from the Coach.

The softball team has a lot of potential for the Spring of 1987. Dana Moore, 1st team all Henlopen Conference, Nicki Smith, Paige Steen, Lori McCabe, Tracey Jarmon, Stephanie Hitchens and Karen Fleming should help lead our team on to victory. Also, Mr. Grundman's SMS team is sending some good sophomores to help "fill the gaps." Please come out and support our team. Coach Ron Steen

Sports

Football, wrestling, basketball, tennis, soccer, baseball, and hockey all showed IR style this year. Our teams did a great job especially our football team. Our fellow team members should be recognized for this super year in sports. They say it is not if you win or lose but how you play the game. Our school has a lot to be proud of. We still are number one in the student's, faculty, and parent's eyes. IR style was alive in our sports teams this year. Our teams strived for the best and achieved it!

Toneigh Merrick displays another aspect of IR style. Toneigh's hairstyle is like no other at our school. This is a mark of her individualism. Lynda Shockley, one of our senior superlatives, is another unique member of our student body. Lynda and Toneigh are good examples of the diversity of IR style.

Donyile Fletcher and Philip Marvil think of the future, and what it holds for them. Many seniors face this same dilemma. Seniors must choose what they are going to do. Some may choose to go to college, but others may choose another alternative. Making the right choice could affect your whole life.

This year Mr. Goldberg has arranged for two foreign exchange students to attend Indian River. This year's students, Maria Lopez and Blanca Perez are from Spain. Maria is living with the Harvey family of Dagsboro. Blanca is staying with the Evans family of Millville. Both have made many friends here. They have been able to learn about the USA and our way of life first hand. We, in turn, have been able to learn much about them and their life abroad. It has been a great learning experience for all of us. Below we see Maria and Kim Bolton during the Slave Day auction.

Foreign Exchange Students

Of all the friends that these students make during their year in America, the ties created between them and their families are probably the strongest. Here we see Maria with her American "sisters" Ann and Diane Harvey. It is never easy to leave home but the Harveys have made Maria feel welcome in theirs. Maria will always remember her time here and the Harveys will never forget it either.

The Evans family has created a wonderful environment for Blanca, shown here with the entire family. When the Evans were searching for a student, they noticed that Blanca enjoyed horseback riding. Their search was over! Since Brooke is also an avid rider, Blanca was the perfect choice. Being an exchange student is not easy and neither is being a host family. The Evanses and Blanca have had a very positive experience because they each are willing to learn and share the best that they each have to offer. An added dimension to Blanca's stay was that her sister was also an exchange student this year living in Dover! This made the year even more enjoyable for them both. We will miss these girls next year but we know that having known them has enriched our lives.

J.R Style

Beth Owen and Kelly Bolton embody the junior spirit. Fun-loving and carefree, these two always have a smile and are ready for adventure. Here we see them ready to begin another school day in typical junior style.

Things are looking up for Isabelle Dundee, Todd Smith, and Tammy Bunting. Togetherness goes hand in hand with junior style at Indian River. We work, play, and study together for so long that making close friends is just part of life at our school. This is IR style, junior style.

Blanca Perez, Alisa Jordan, and Avonda Felton show junior "class" at a pep rally. The junior class adds a great deal of enthusiasm in the gym and elsewhere. They know how to enjoy themselves in every way. This is practically a prerequisite for becoming a senior. These juniors are ready!

In Memoriam

Lawyer Hicks passed away on September 7, 1986. What can we say about one of our friends who has left us? No words can fill his void. We remember Lawyer as a vital member of many of our sports teams but the memory of him and the pain of his loss goes far beyond that. We can only hope to keep his memory alive in our hearts and minds so that he will never be forgotten.

Vanessa hangs out with the girls as Shawn flashes those famous sparkling eyes.

Jenny Brown sits in French class in a pensive mood. We can only imagine what she is thinking. Sophomores have so many things on their minds. A boyfriend, a Geometry quiz, float meetings, dances, piles of homework, and trying to hold their own in halls full of upper classmen. These are only some of the many things with which sophomores must contend. Life has its ups and downs, and sophomores seem to get more than their share of downs. They do have hope for the future because next year they will be juniors and then seniors after that. This is the lot, of a sophomore to look to the future. And this is what Jenny seems to be doing.

The sophomores adapted well coming to Indian River. We look ahead in great optimism to the next few years here. We sophomores hope to make the next two years beneficial to ourselves and Indian River. Our class hopes to be an asset to this school. Our goal is to be a class that exemplifies school spirit and pride. We hope to have 100% participation in paying class dues and becoming more involved in class and school functions. We also hope to raise a great deal of money through fundraisers in order for next year's seniors to have a very memorable prom. The sophomores of 1986-87 are aiming for true IR style. School has it's ups and downs. By the looks of it, Jeremy Hall is definitely having a down day. Being great friends is a big part of sophomore style. Tracey Truitt and Jennifer West are buddying up to our foreign exchange student, Maria Lopez. These sophomores are learning about having IR style.

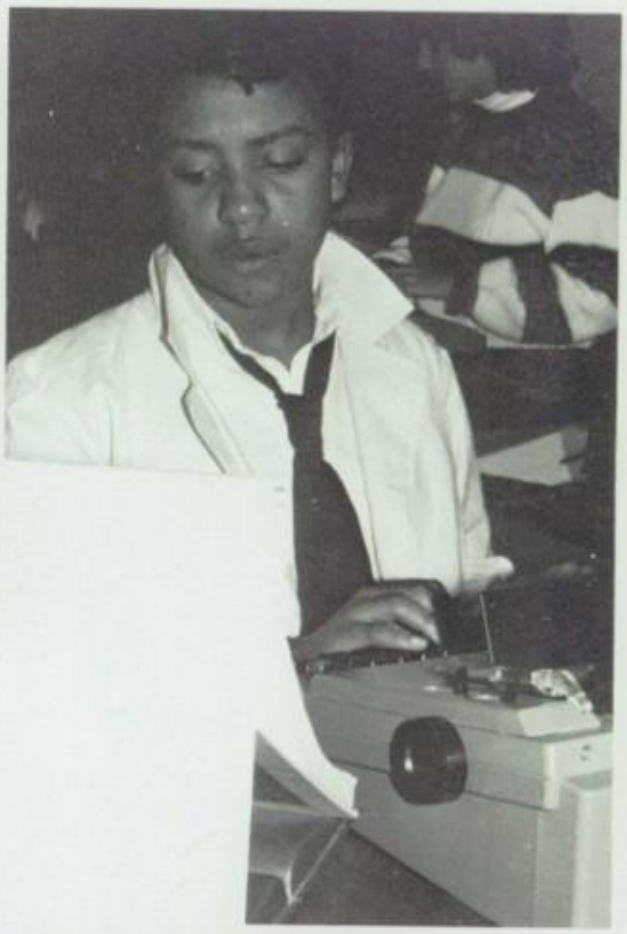
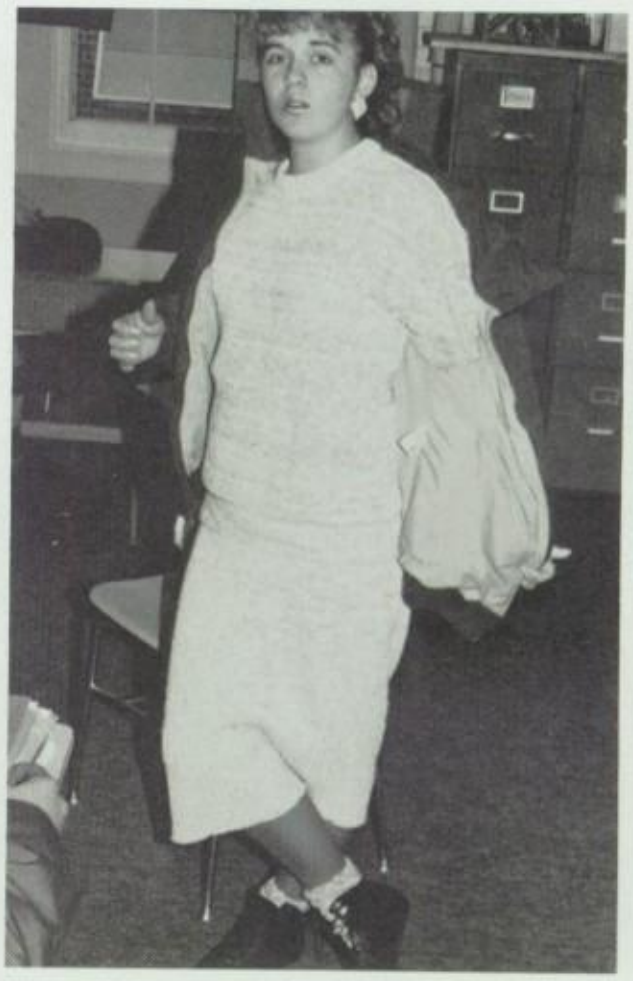
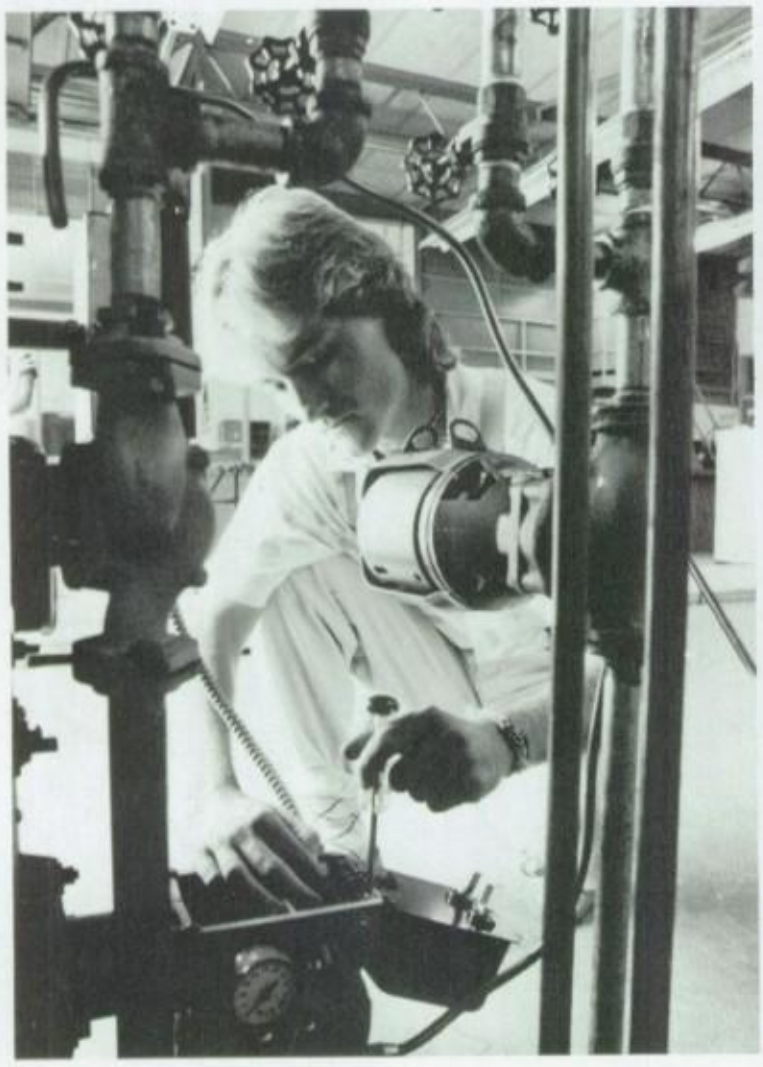
Life as a sophomore. New school, new friends, new teachers, and lots of responsibility! It's tough being the new kid at school. But if anyone can do it with style and charm, it's the class of 1989.

There are many types of people within the Sophomore class. Here are some of the faces that make up this newest addition to Indian River. Whether typing in class, talking with friends, eating lunch in the school cafeteria or posing for the camera, the Sophomores add their own brand of IR style to whatever they do. They will develop the new IR style in the future.



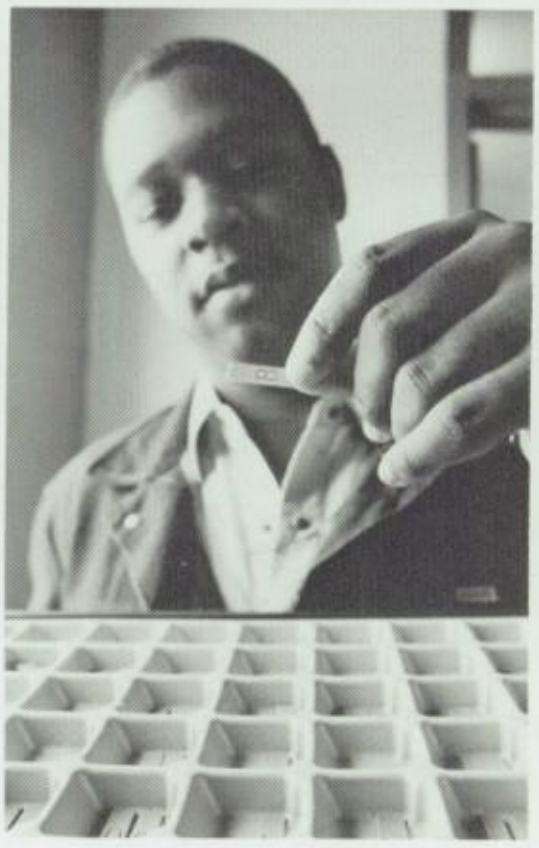




Vo-Tech

Everyday, some lucky Indian River students get to depart from these great walls and go to the Vo-Tech center in Georgetown. What do they do there, you may ask? Well, they are preparing for occupations in the vocational and technical fields. Some of the areas available for study are masonry, horticulture, data processing, cosmetology, plumbing, electronics, health care, and auto body repair. These skills will prepare students for the world of work.

Erwin McCray analyzes electronic systems, while Vicki Manuel learns how to ring up merchandise. Greg Hitchens enjoys doing body work.



Tim Dorsey and Amy Shockley work at their computers, as Geraldine Custis and Lucinda Spence monitor a patient. Charles Feddiman sets type, and Sabrina Scott sets a do.

CO-OP

At Indian River High School the Cooperative Diversified Occupations Program is a combination of classroom study and on-the-job work experience. Students are recieving in-school instruction and related vocational experience in a field of their choice, through cooperation between the school and employers. The two experiences will comprise the student's educational program. This program encourages students to complete their high school education, and to better prepare them for the work world.

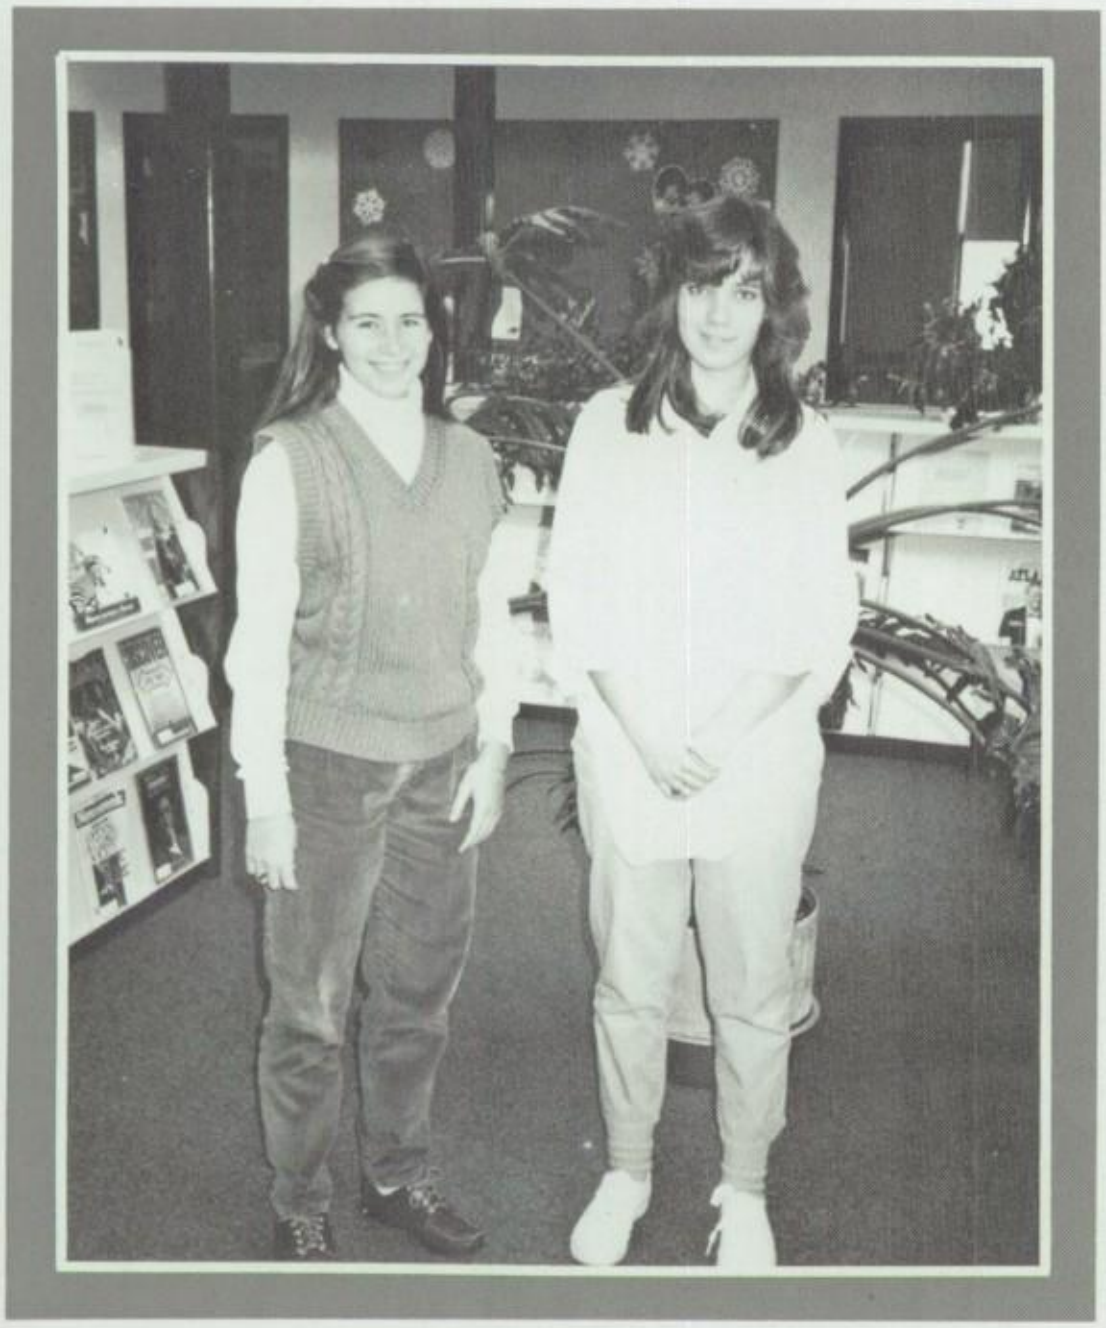
Student Aides

Row 1: Linda Miller, Lora Hudson, Patty Burke, Nichole Smith Row 2: Donna Marvel, Michelle Wright, Avonda Felton Row 3: Stephanie Hitchens, Tricia Johnson Row 4: Philip Marvil, Troy McCabe, Kevan Wharton Student aides are quite an asset to Indian River. They provide valuable assistance to teachers and administrators. They perform various tedious and time-consuming tasks leaving teachers free to do what they do best-teach. From compiling attendance bulletins to running copies, student aides are a necessary part of Indian River. We all appreciate the tremendous job they do for us.

Stephanie Hitchens is a great help to Mrs. Cordrey who still can't figure out the new copy machine. What are they doing with that boot? Troy McCabe is also indispensable to Mrs. Milam who is learning to take her blood pressure.

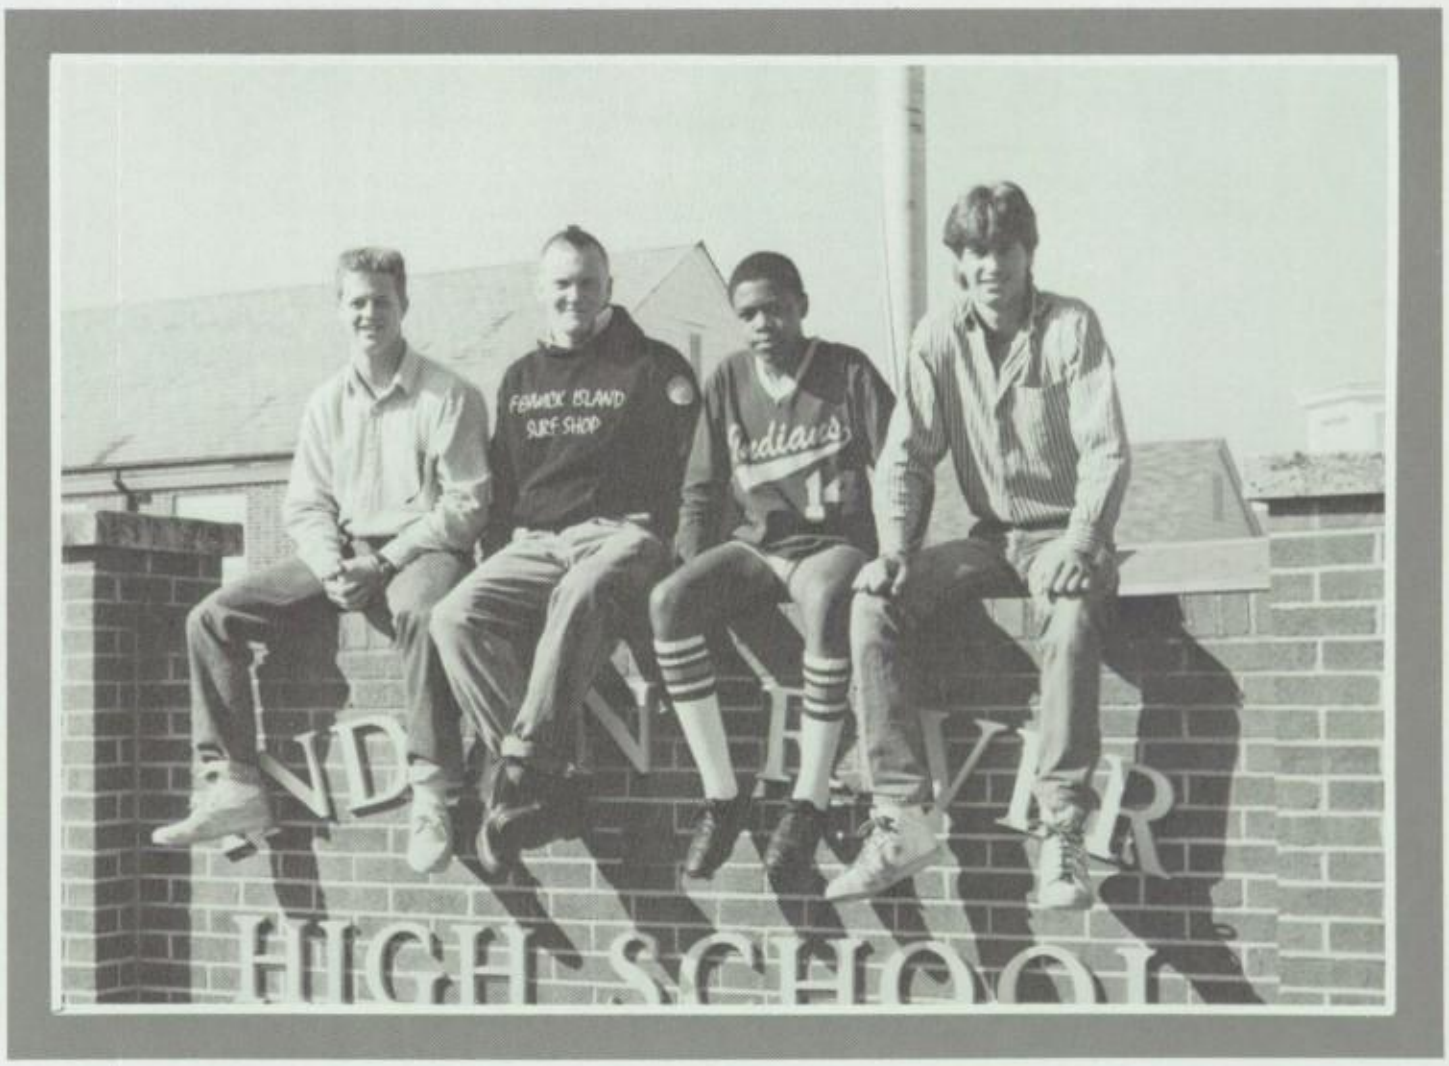
Close-Up

Close-Up is a one week study tour of Washington, D.C. Students visit the halls and committee rooms of government and meet the men and women who influence the course of American history. They find out first hand what's going on in America and the world, as well as how it affects their future. To the right are people who went on the Close-Up trip last year. Row 1:Michele Price, Lori McCabe, Melissa Gerken, and Anthony Hovington. Row 2:Bobby Taylor, Gary Murray, and Mr. Abbott. Below are those that are planning to go on this year's trip. Row 1:Ingrid Hatton, Jennifer Campbell, and Catherine VanGorden. Row 2:Amy Dukes, Cathy Bixler, Paige Steen, Michelle Johnson, Kim Griffin, and Kathy Anderson. Row 3:Chip Cubbage, Stephanie Lynch, Kent McCullough, Isabelle Dundee, Ron Jones, Gary Murray, John Smith, Mike Bell, Kristin Hudson, and Mr Abbott.



Boys And Girls State

Boys and Girls State is a unique learning experience. The students who are chosen to attend will learn about our government first hand. The representatives chosen this year for Boys state were Lin Bunting, Phillip Ash, Anthony Hovington, and Mike Dennis. Those chosen for girls state were Lori McCabe and Vicki Matthews. They discussed politics and other issues that concern Americans today. They formed a mock Senate and House of Representatives and learned exactly how each of the two bodies work. They were able to visit Legislative Hall and see Delaware's government officials in action. It was a very rewarding experience.



Governor's School for Excellence

Every year two students in the sophomore class from each school in the state are chosen to attend Governor's School. The two students from IR who attended this past summer are Paige Steen and Nancy Timmons. The following are Nancy's comments:

Attending Governor's School for a week this past summer added a highlight to my summer vacation. I attended many class sessions and functions. Our discussions and projects mainly revolved around SDI (the satellite defense initiative). Most important, however, were the social activities which allowed one to meet many other interesting and intelligent students. Many lasting friendships and memories were formed during this week. This shared experience was very enjoyable for all who were involved.

The Senate Youth Foundation conducts a national leadership program for seniors each fall. High schools across the U.S. select one outstanding senior. This nominee goes into state competition, where a committee then selects one young man and woman to represent the state at a seminar in Washington, D.C. This year, Lori McCabe was the nominee from IR.

Every year the Daughters of the American Revolution award a student in each high school a gook citizenship pin. The recognized student must exhibit leadership, patriotism, and concern for their country and fellow man. Celeste Tanner, who is a fine example of all of these qualities was chosen out of all the students at Indian River.

Hugh O'Brian established the HOBY award to promote leadership among tenth grade students. Yearly, high schools across the nation select one student from the tenth grade to be the HOBY recipient. This student attends a weekend leadership seminar with other state winners. From the weekend session, two students are selected to attend the national seminar. The IR HOBY winner this year was Dawn Cordrey.

The Rural Electric Washington Youth Tour enables deserving youth to observe their government in action. The Delaware Electric Cooperative, Inc. authorized two delegates for the 1986 tour, which was the first we attended. The nominees were interviewed and asked to write an essay explaining why they felt they should be chosen. Mike Dennis was one of the two chosen to represent our state.

The Century III is a national scholarship competition for senior students interested in governmental studies. The competition begins on the high school level with students submitting an application along with an innovative project concerning the third century. Diane Harvey was the winner for IR. Congratulations on your win.

Awards

The yearbook staff would like to congratulate all the award winners at Indian River. It is truly an honor to be chosen among a group of your peers to represent your school. Each of you has something to be proud of.

The Honors English program has been in existence for five years at Indian River High School and the District as a whole. The program has been set up as a comprehensive course of study for grades seven through twelve, the purpose of which is to prepare students who plan to attend comprehensive and highly selective four year colleges. The curriculum is patterned after the national advanced placement program, and a number of our students each year take these examinations. By scoring well on this test, students are able to earn advanced college credit in English. In order to enter the honors program, students should score in the upper 8% to 10% in the reading and language portions of the CTBS test as well as show a strong commitment to high standards of performance and hard work.

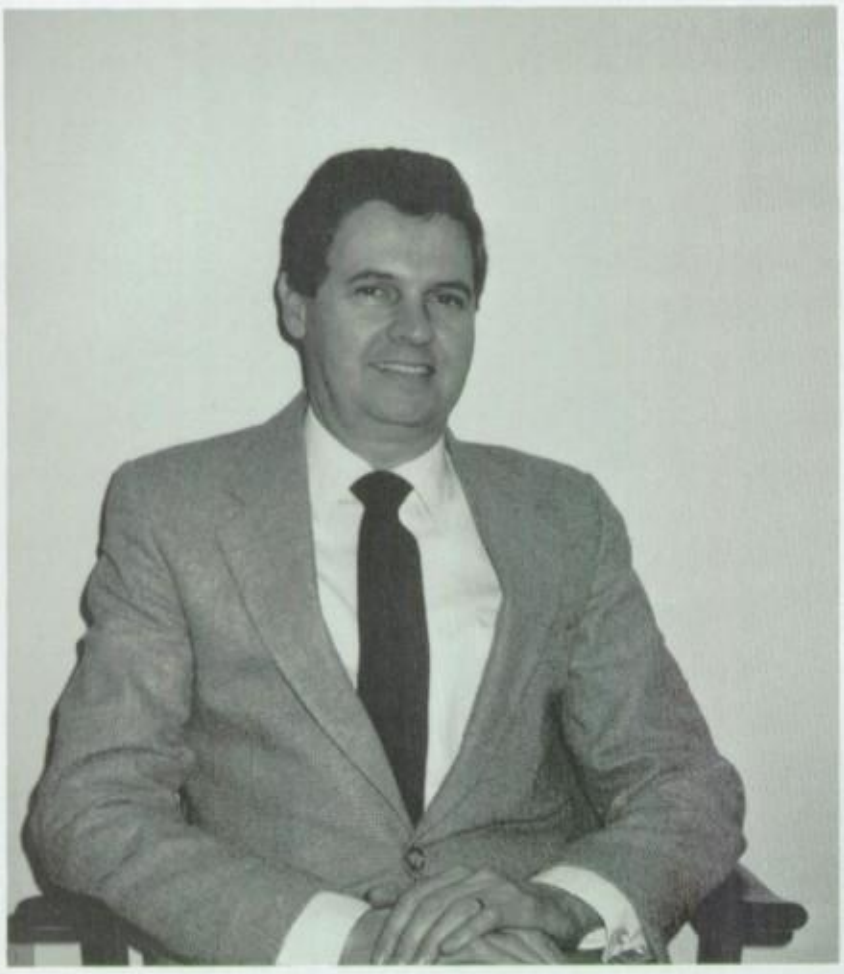
TEACHING IR STYLE
Mrs. Martha White has been our librarian for eighteen years. I asked her why she liked coming here day after day and she answered, "Because of the students and it makes me think about young people which helps me forget about myself."

On Task!

As you can see Mr. Abbott has his own method of teaching. He motivates the students to learn because he is so motivated.



Dr. L. Patterson, Principal

A personal goal I set in September 1986 was to work to make this the best year yet for our students and for our staff at Indian River High School. Indeed, we are entitled to take pride in the very substantial progress that has been made thus far in improving our programs and facilities.

I sincerely hope that you, as a senior, have partaken of the quality educational opportunities availed to you and that you have experienced the IR pride and spirit. When you leave our halls, take these intangibles with you and nurture them in yourself and in the community for the betterment of us all in the future. God speed to you.

The Class of 1987 has contributed the latest verse in the chronicle of Indian River High School. Spirit, pride and accomplishment are only a small sampling of the achievements that this class will bequeath to the school.

Memories are often a sequence of events that we perceive to be important. As chapters in a book, remembrances follow an order of succession from beginning to conclusion. The termination of one's high school education is not a cessation of experiences, but an instance to be arranged in one's memory.

J.R Style

LOONY
WHAT TO WEAR!

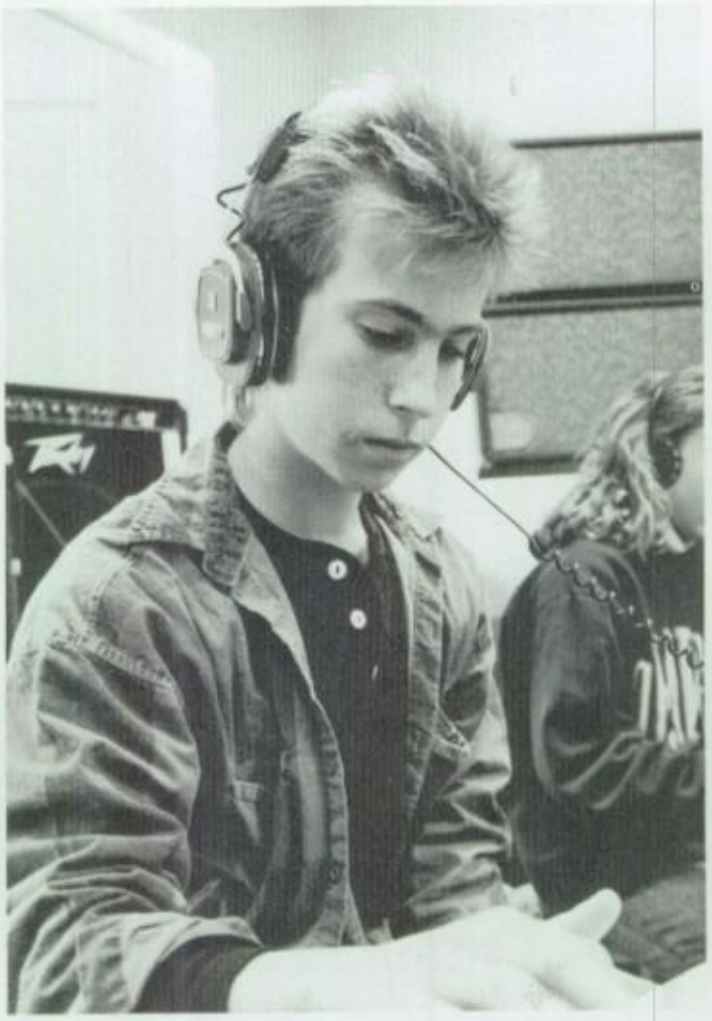
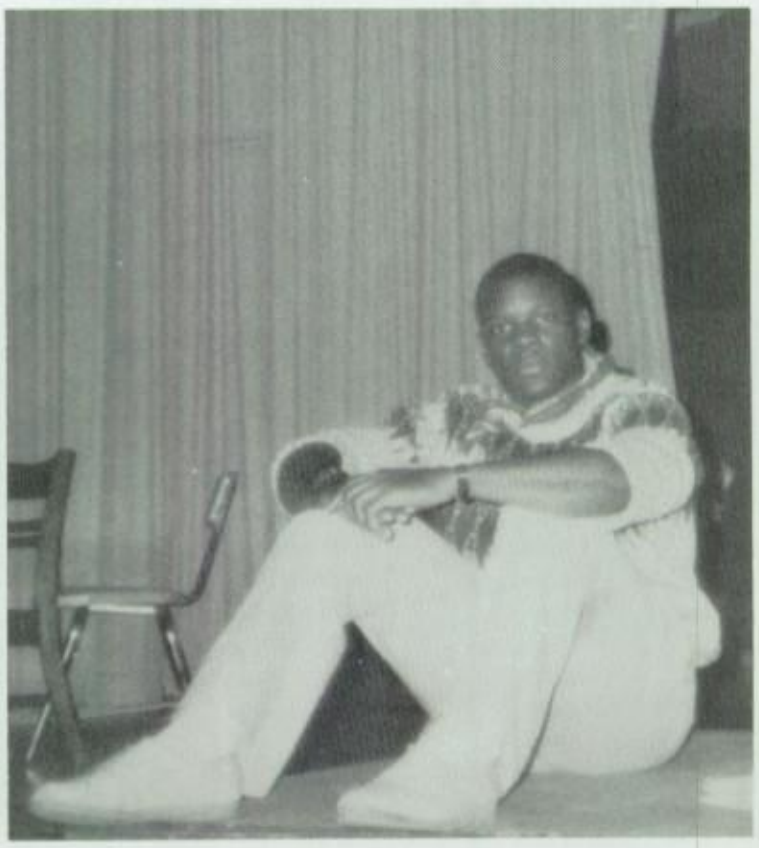
The faces on these pages symbolize styles of all types: Music, comedy, and drama. We, the Indians, have been paying quite a bit of attention to these magnificent few. Maybe some of their style has rubbed off on us! We know our style has come from many places. Whatever its origins, our IR style is now distinctively our own.

Whoopi, Eddie, and The Cosby's have shown us laughter in a most peculiar way. Madonna and Van Halen show us music in its best way. Miami Vice is pure style.

In the pages of this book we have seen IR style lockers. We have seen IR style sports and IR style people. Everything in this book is unique to Indian River, because we are the Indians!





Although the year is at an end, IR style will live on!!
